

Reddit Games

UI/UX
Feedback

Points of Feedback	Slide
Splash + Recommendations	3-4
Empty Space + Recommendations	5-7
Borders + Recommendations	8-9
Crowding + Recommendations	10-11

Minimal Splash

We want to avoid having the screen scrollable, this was something mentioned in the developer's guidelines

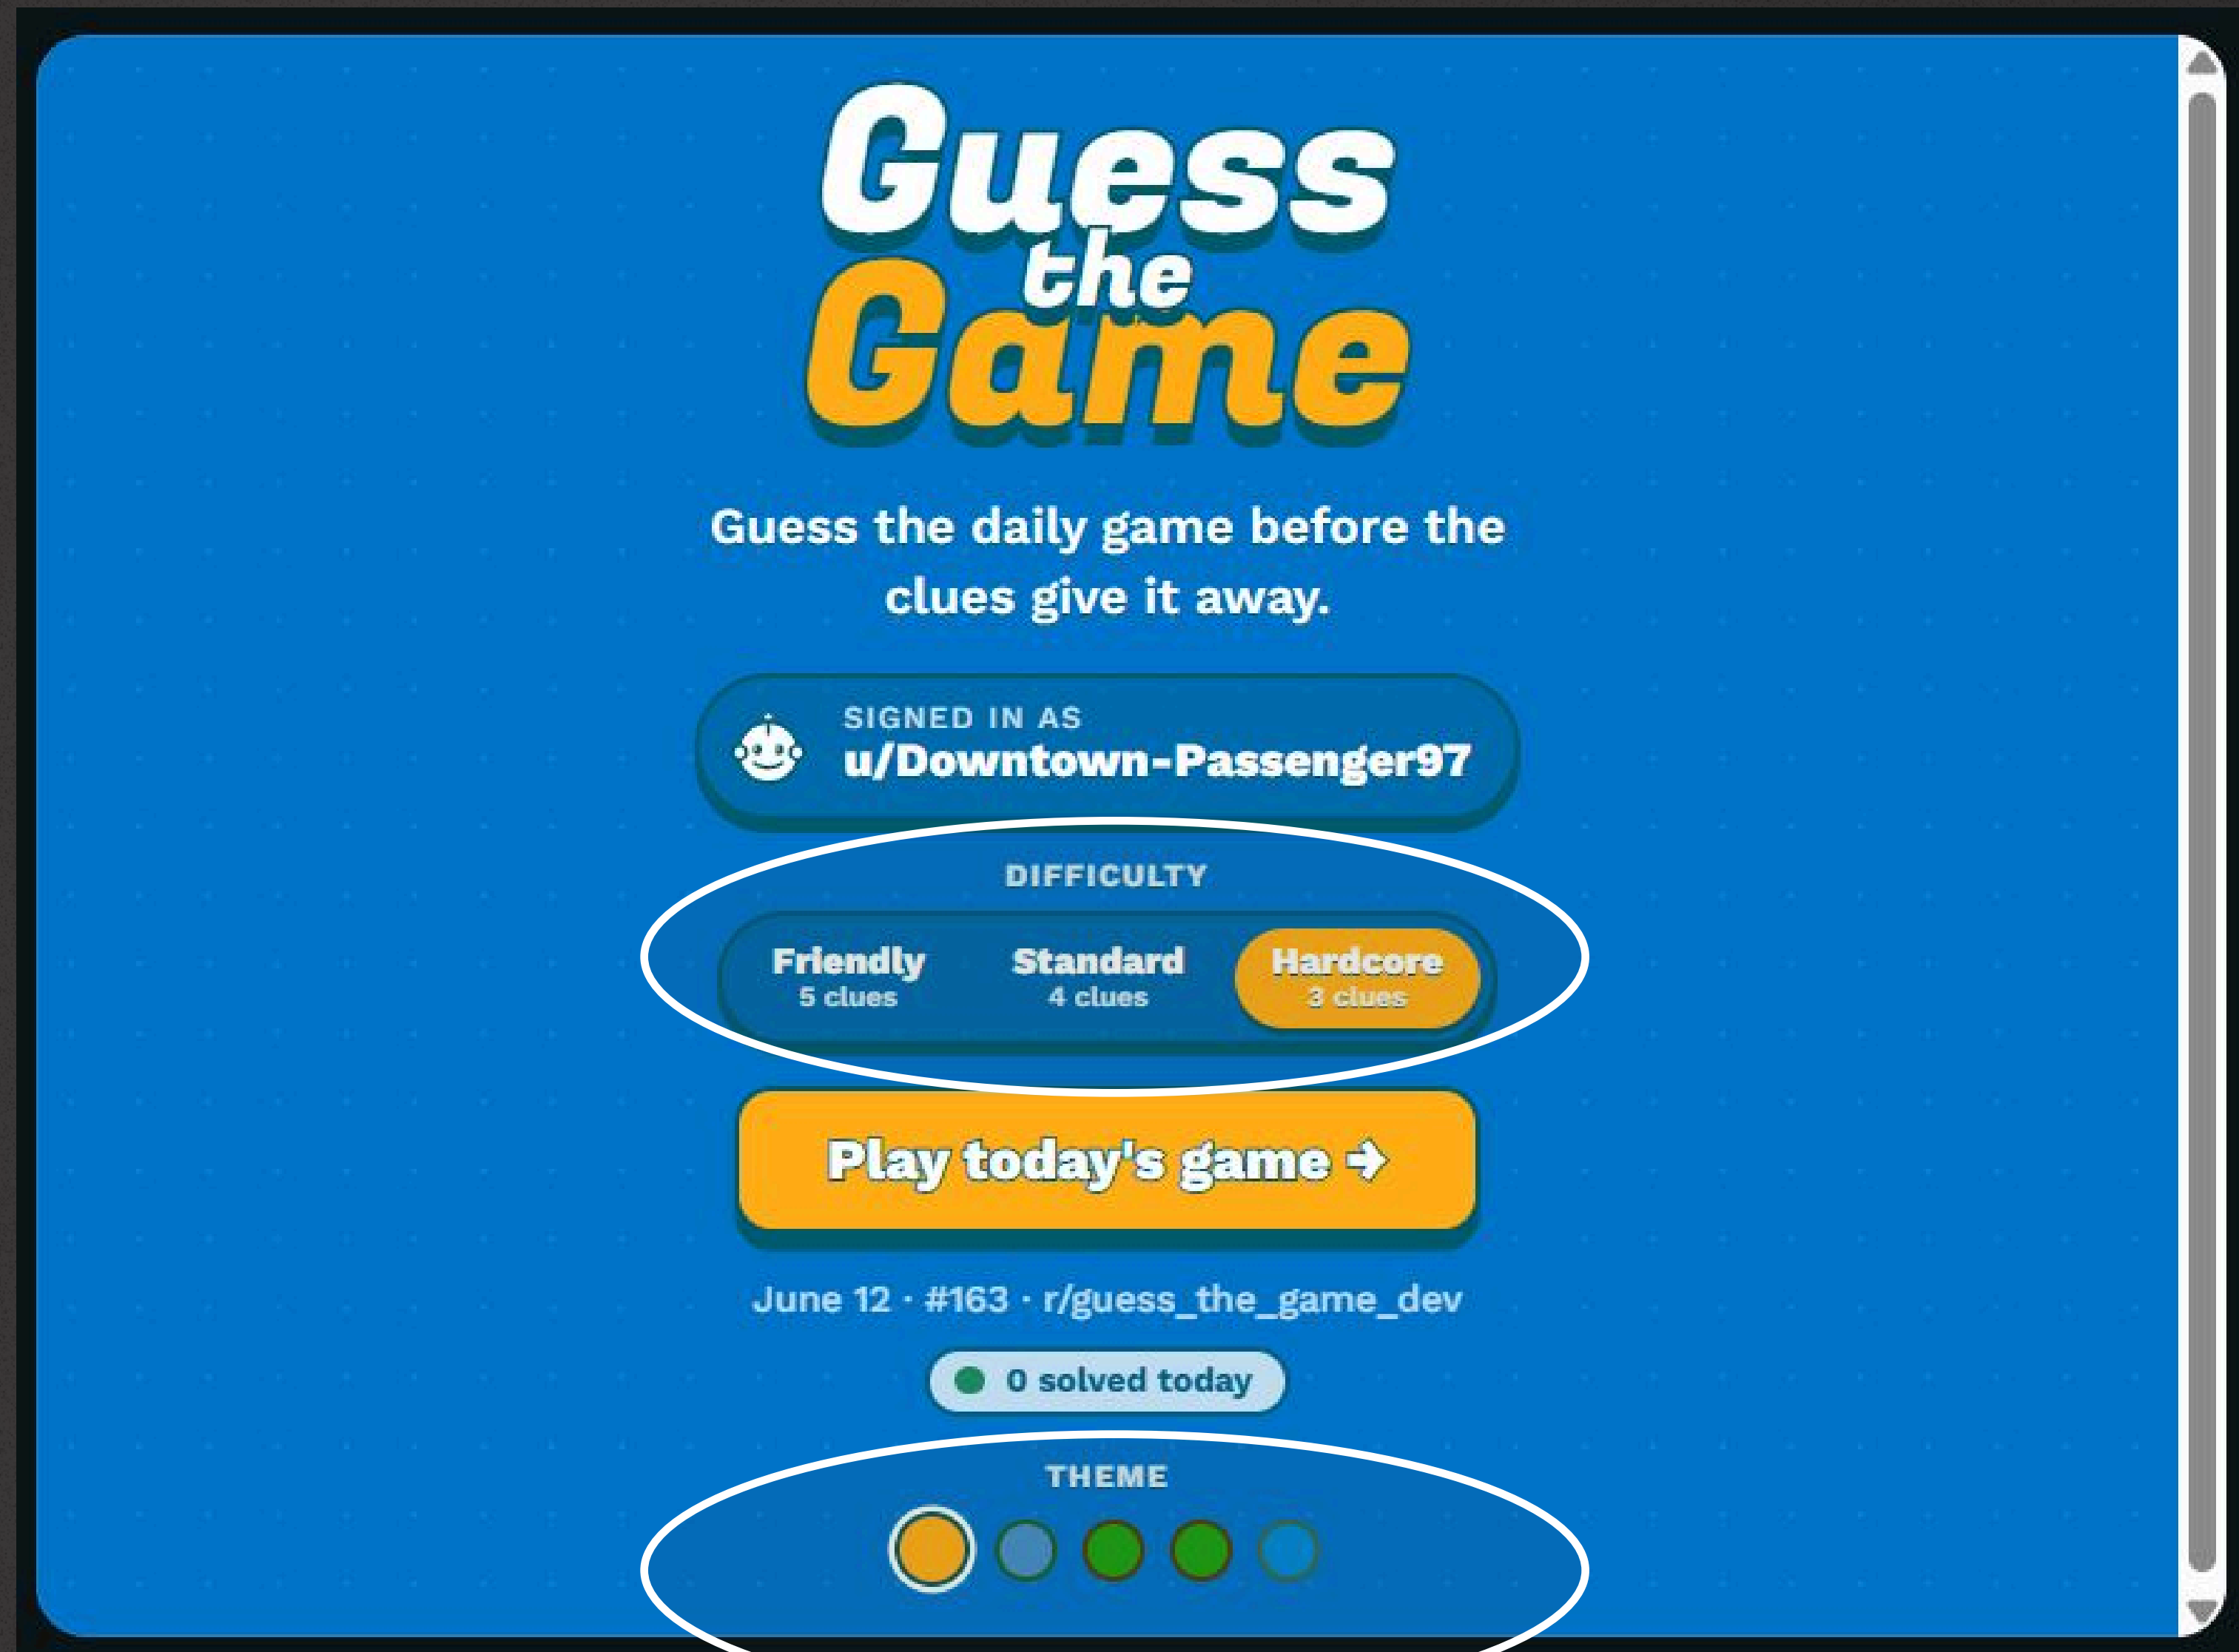

Minimal Splash

We want to avoid having the screen scrollable, this was something mentioned in the developer's guidelines

I recommend we remove:

- Theme options
 - More on brand to stick with one
- Difficulty options
 - The user will want solve in as little clues as possible, this may be redundant to allow them to pick
 - Harder to compare scores

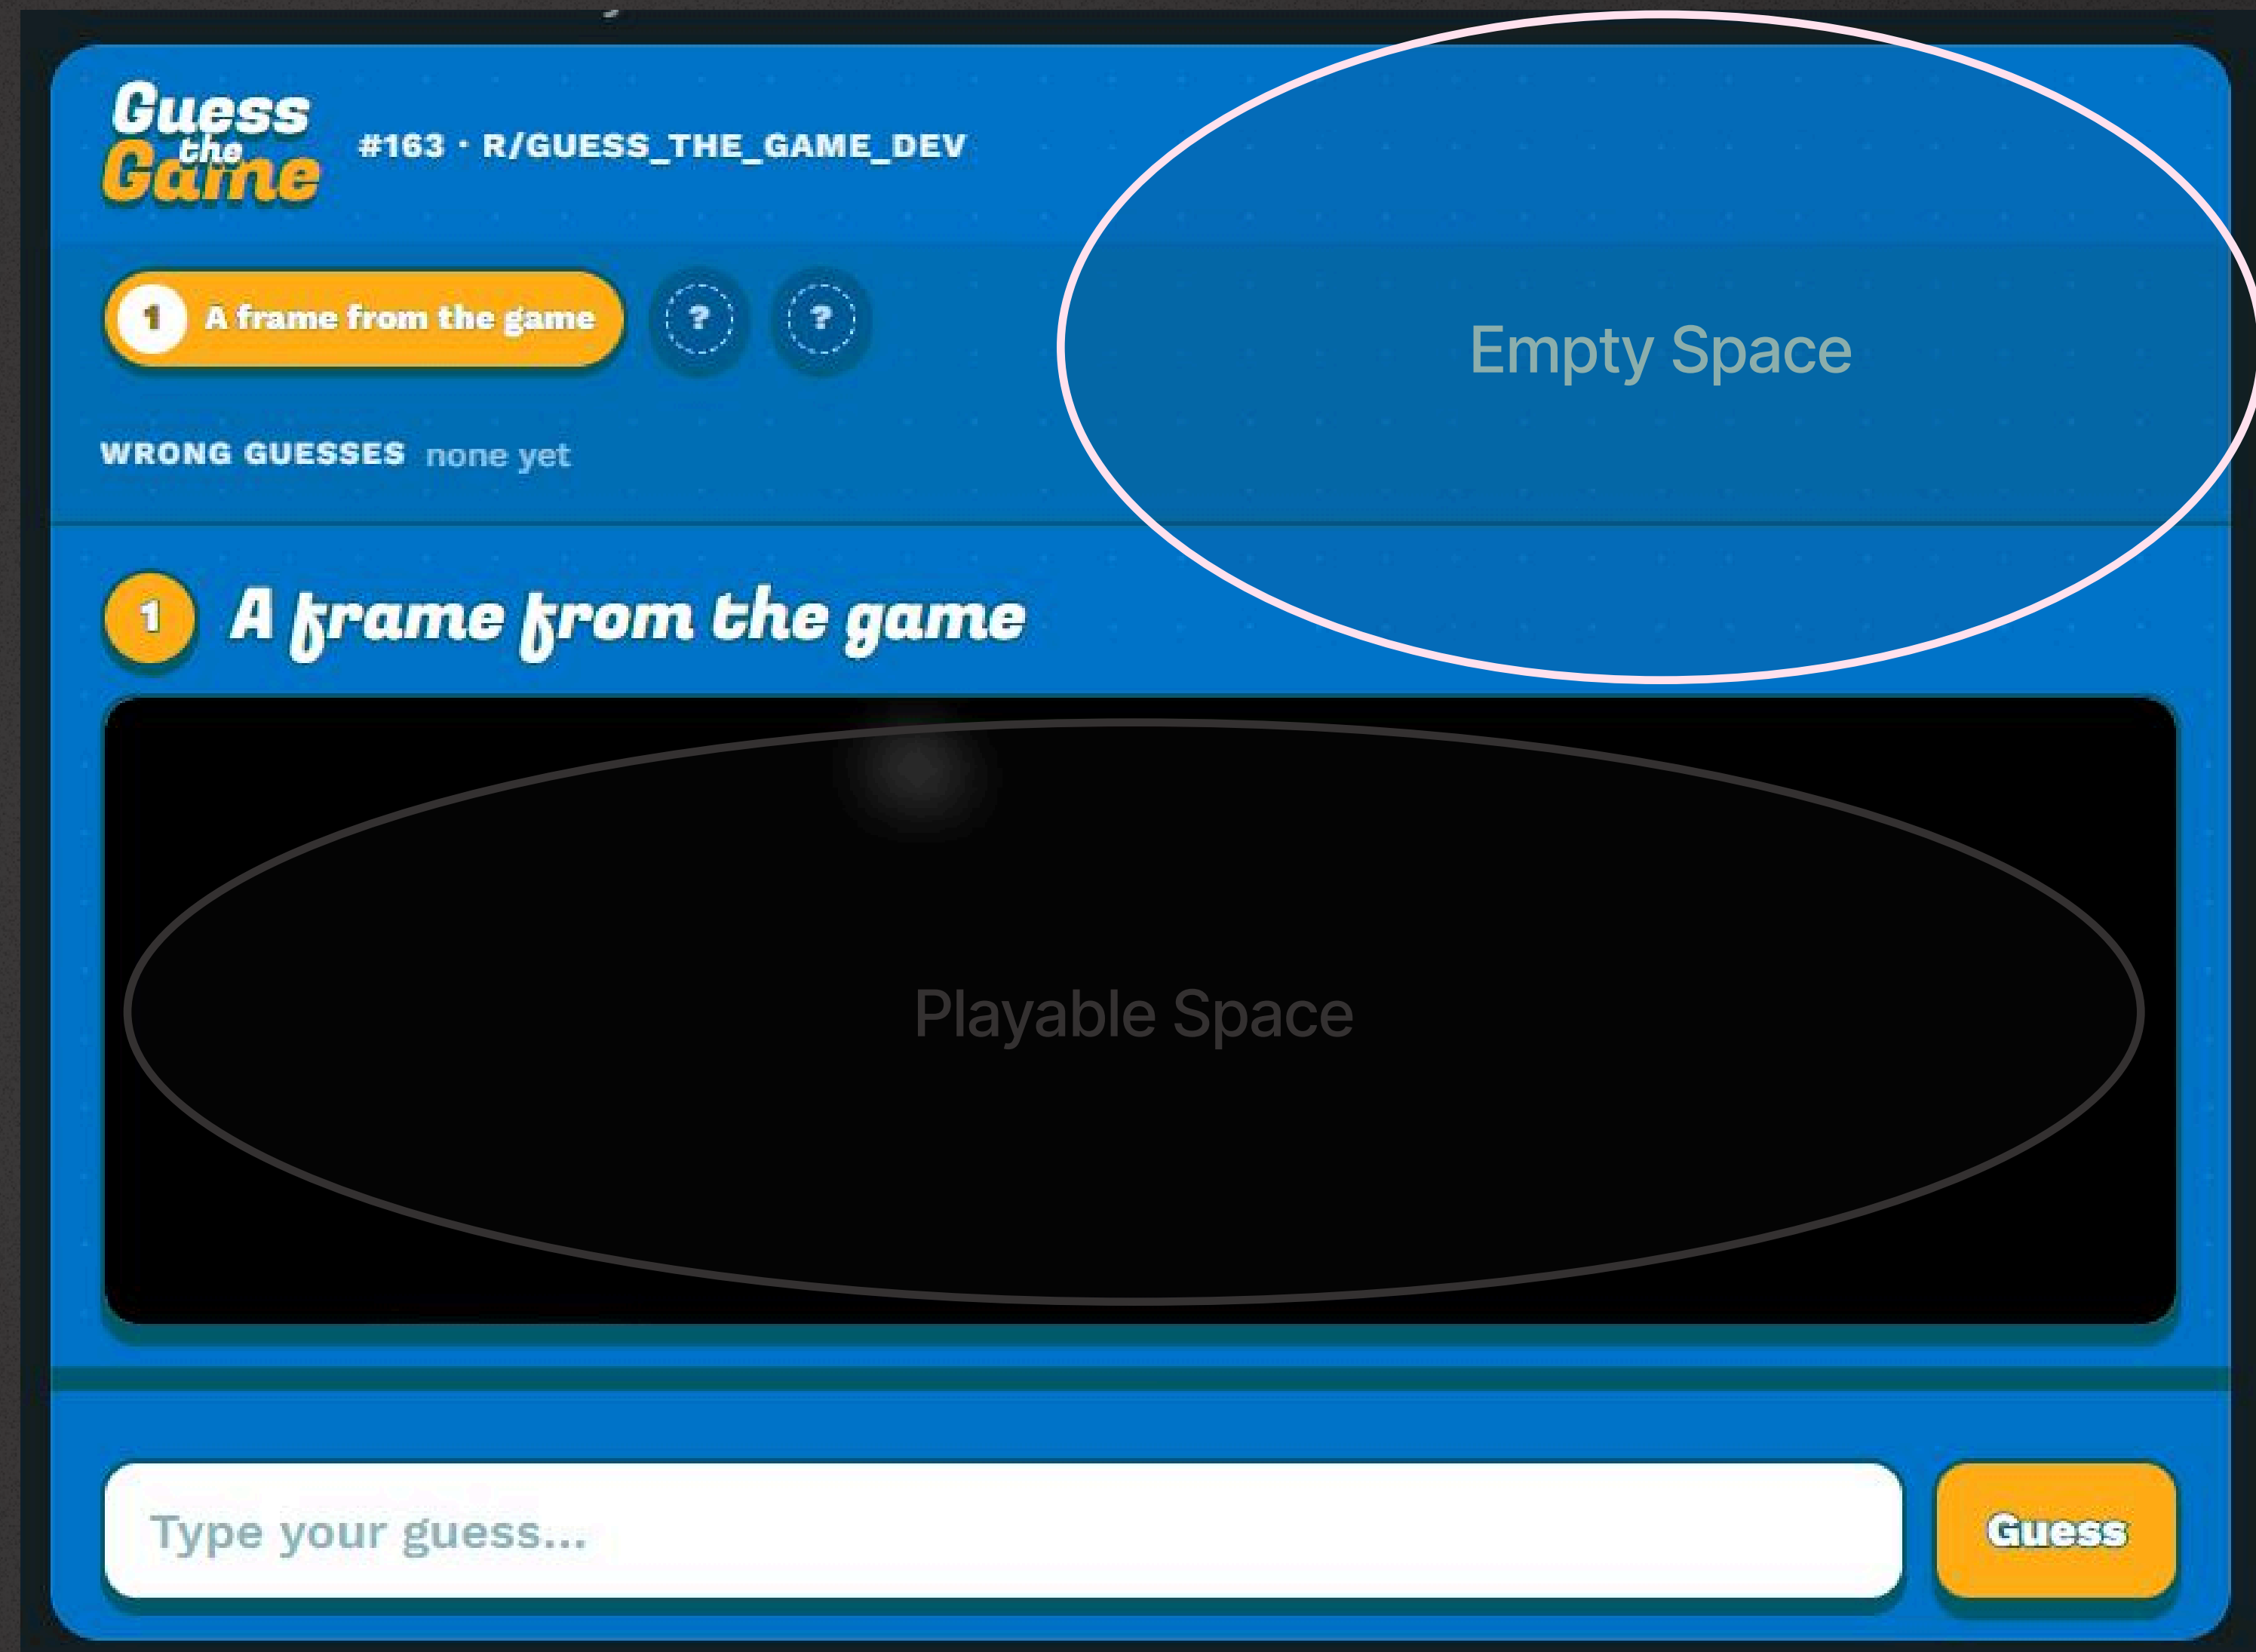

Empty Space

There is less vertical space in the Reddit frame than there is in the design

At the moment, the empty space nearly takes up half of the same space that is playable.

Ideally, we would want to reorganize the page to maximize the playable space and minimize the empty space

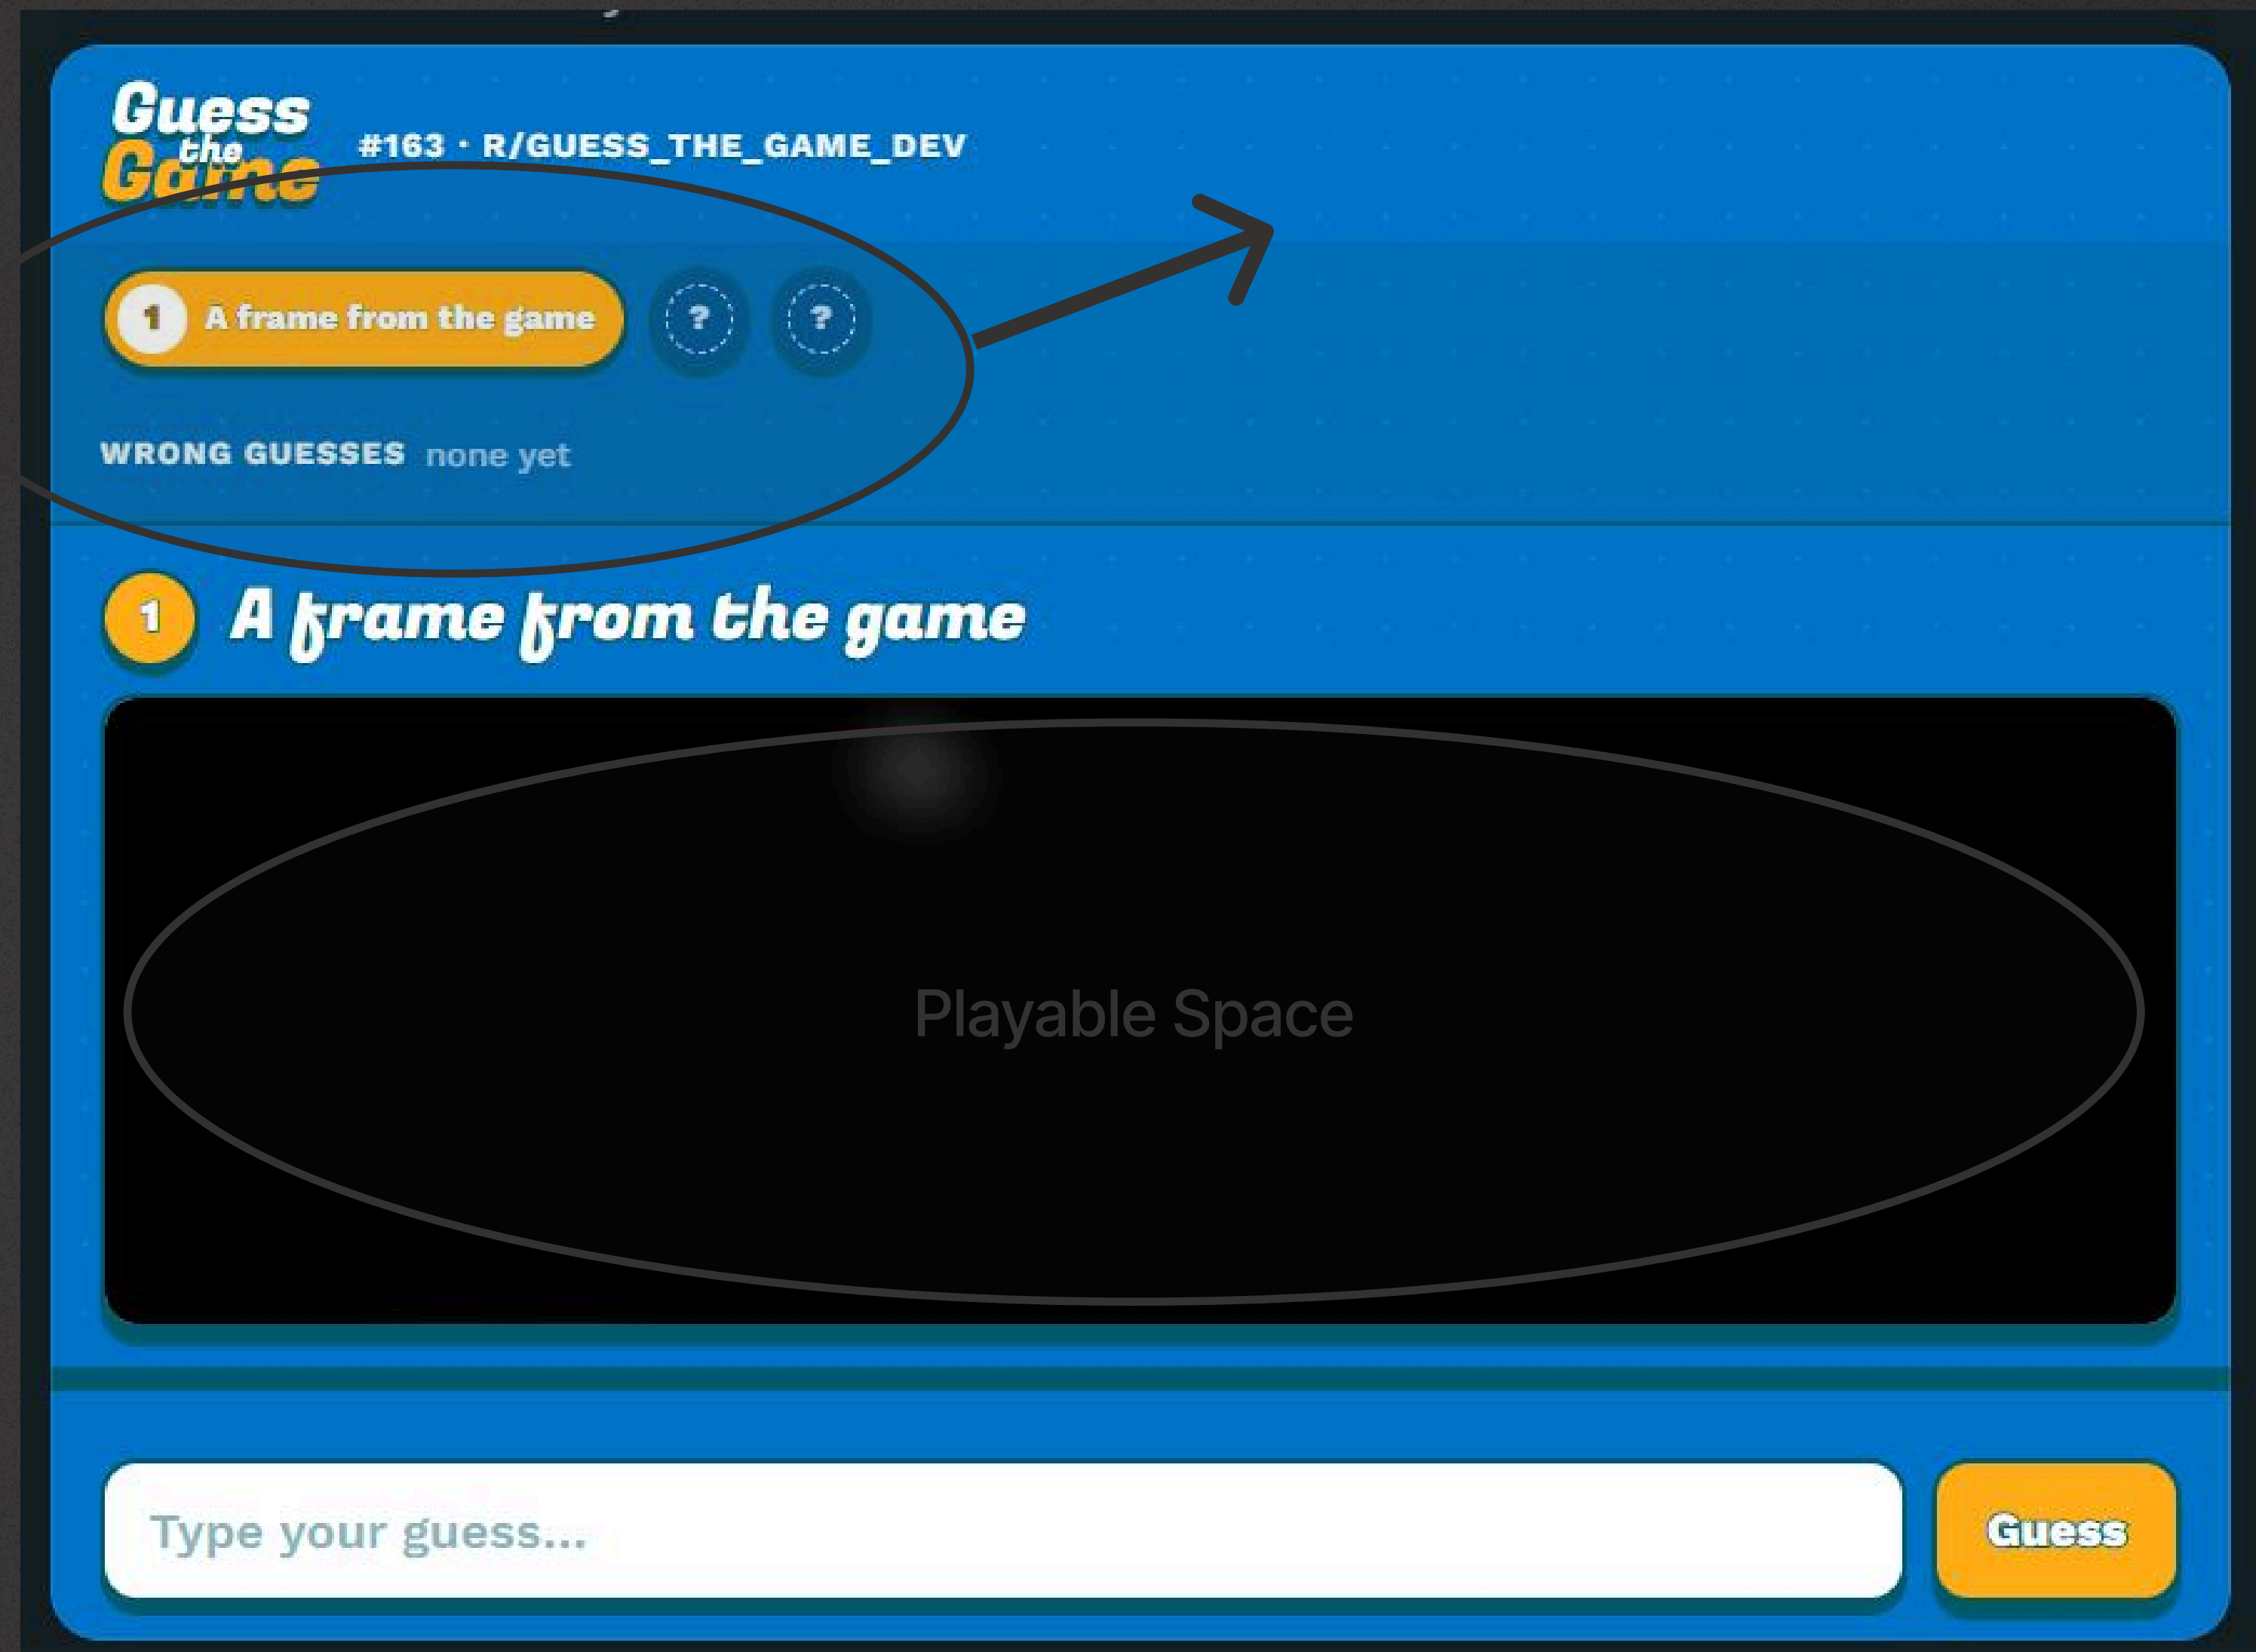

Empty Space

There is less vertical space in the Reddit frame than there is in the design

I recommend:

- Relocate the level progress to the top right of the screen
- Allow the “wrong guesses” to be seen when the player select the level failed, but not constantly on the screen.
 - Displays “already guessed in level _” if typing again

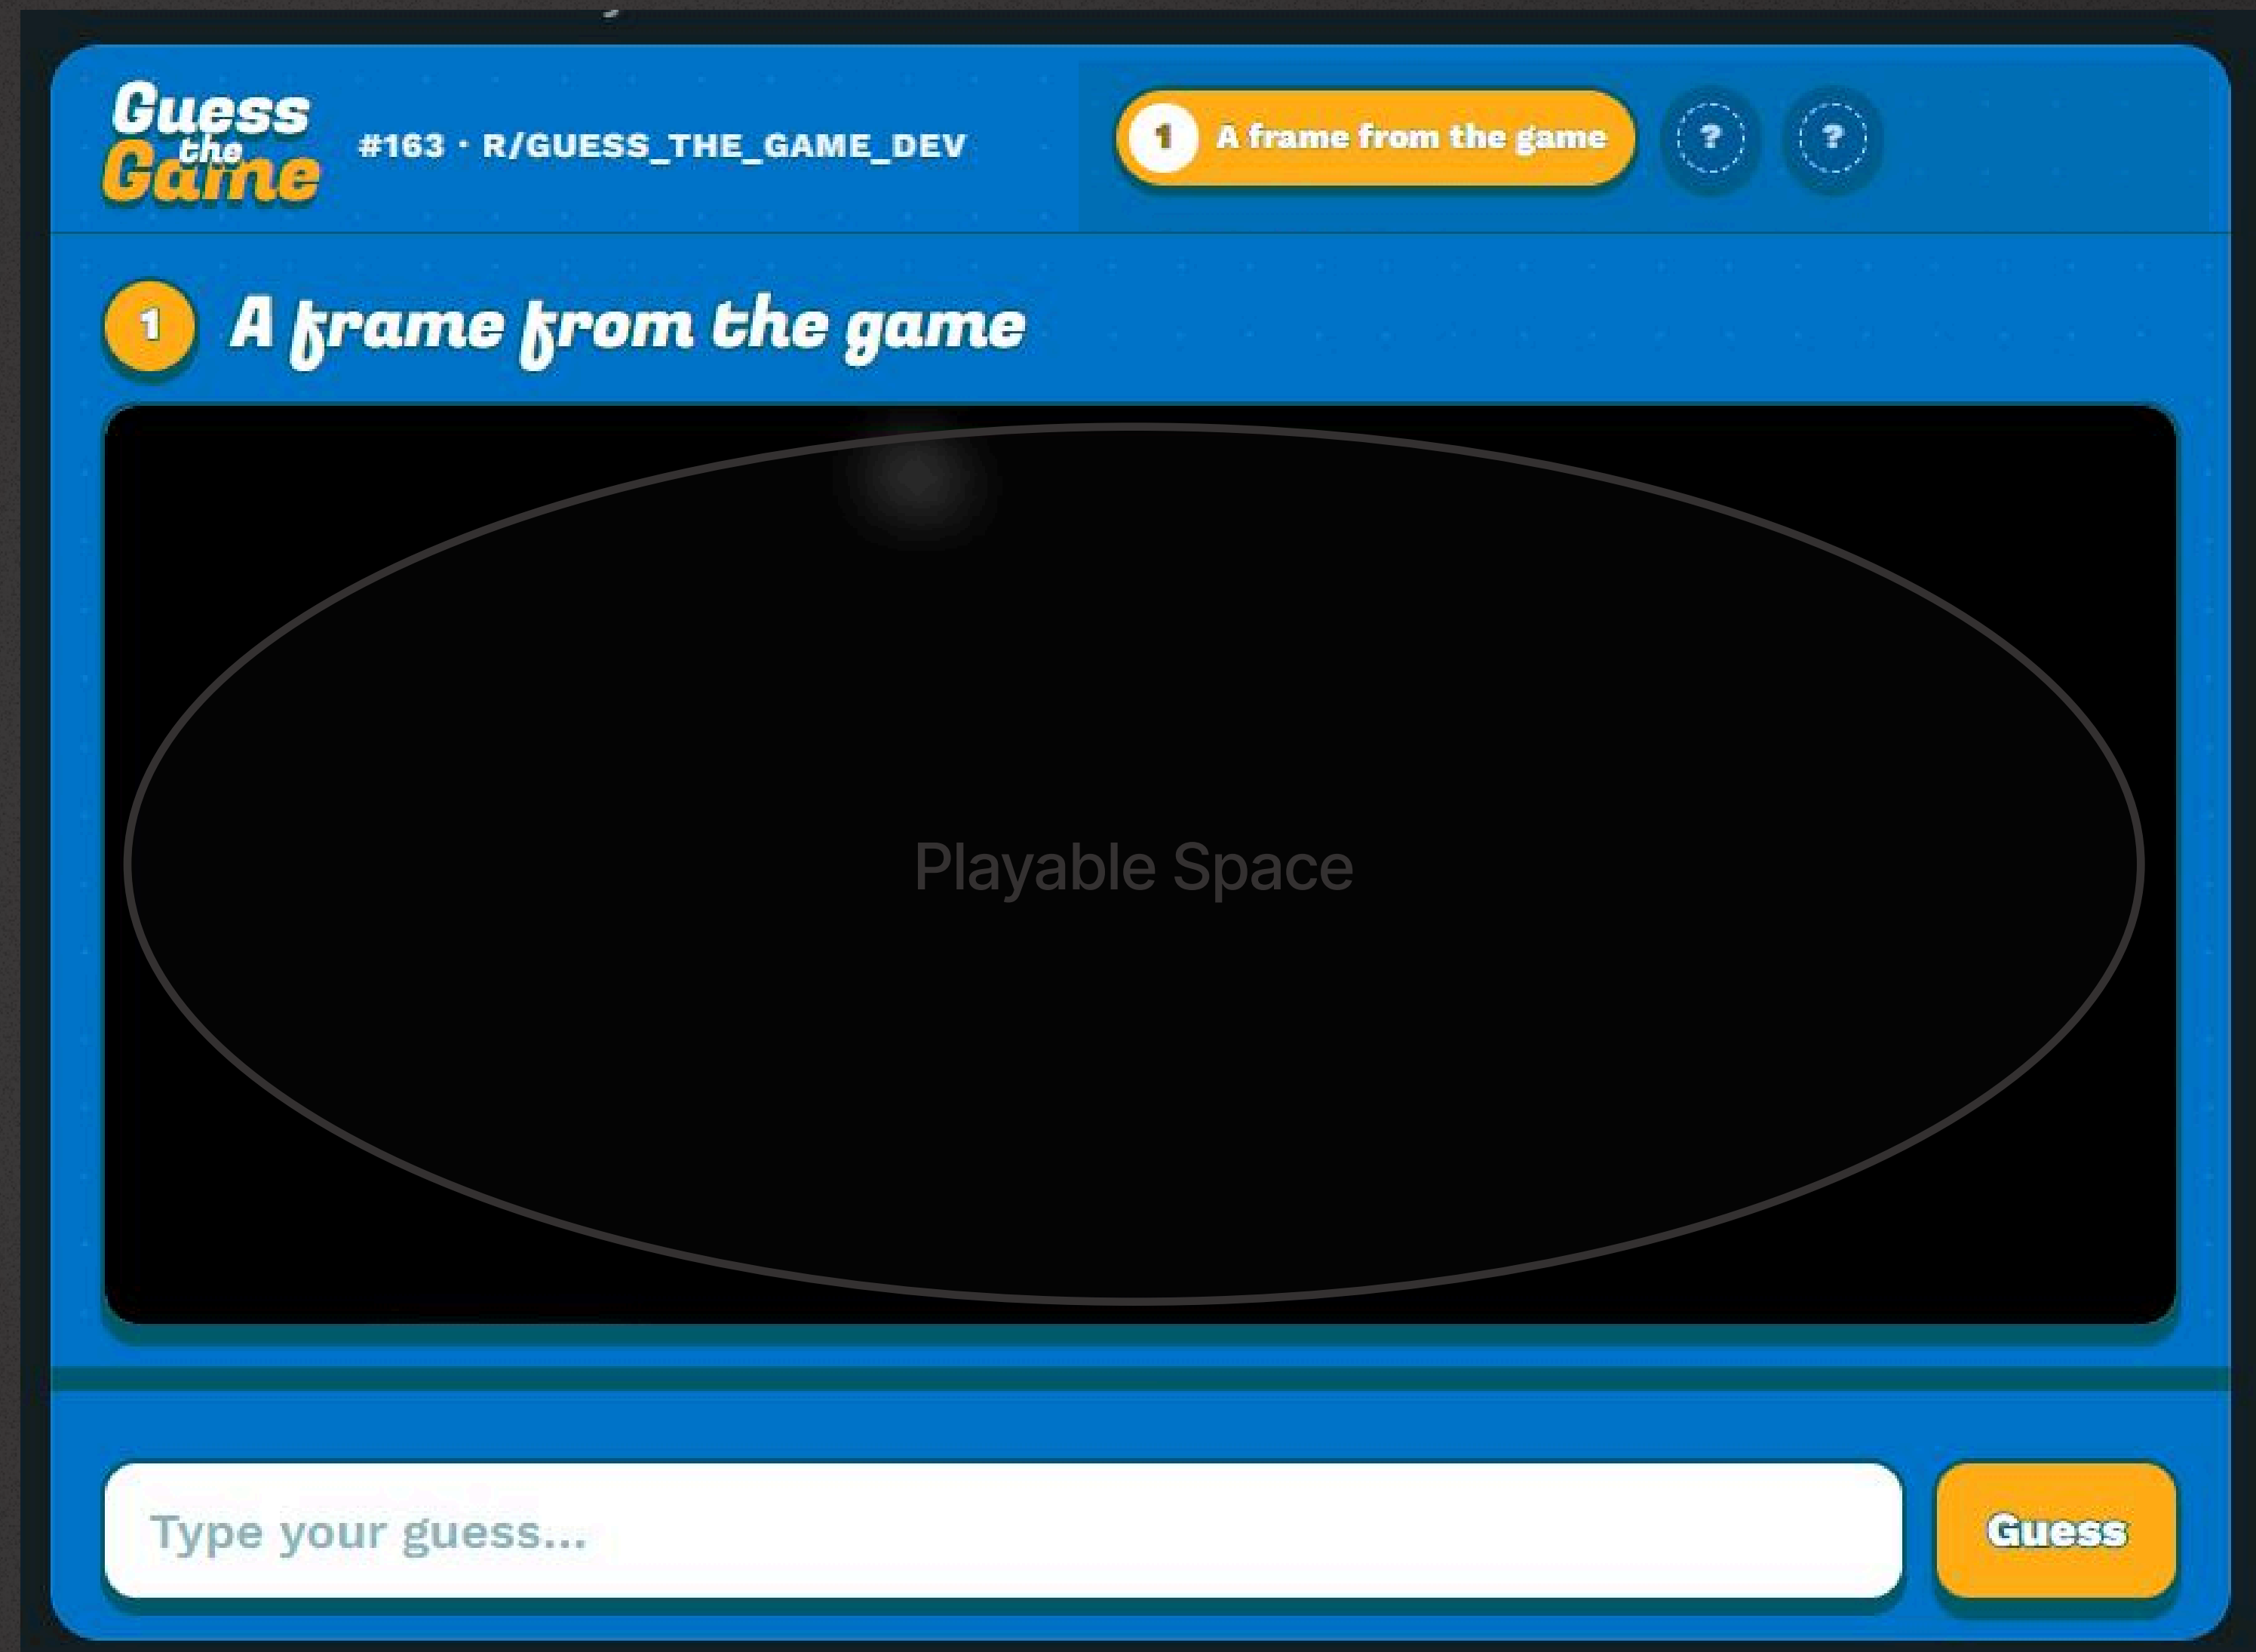

Empty Space

There is less vertical space in the Reddit frame than there is in the design

I recommend:

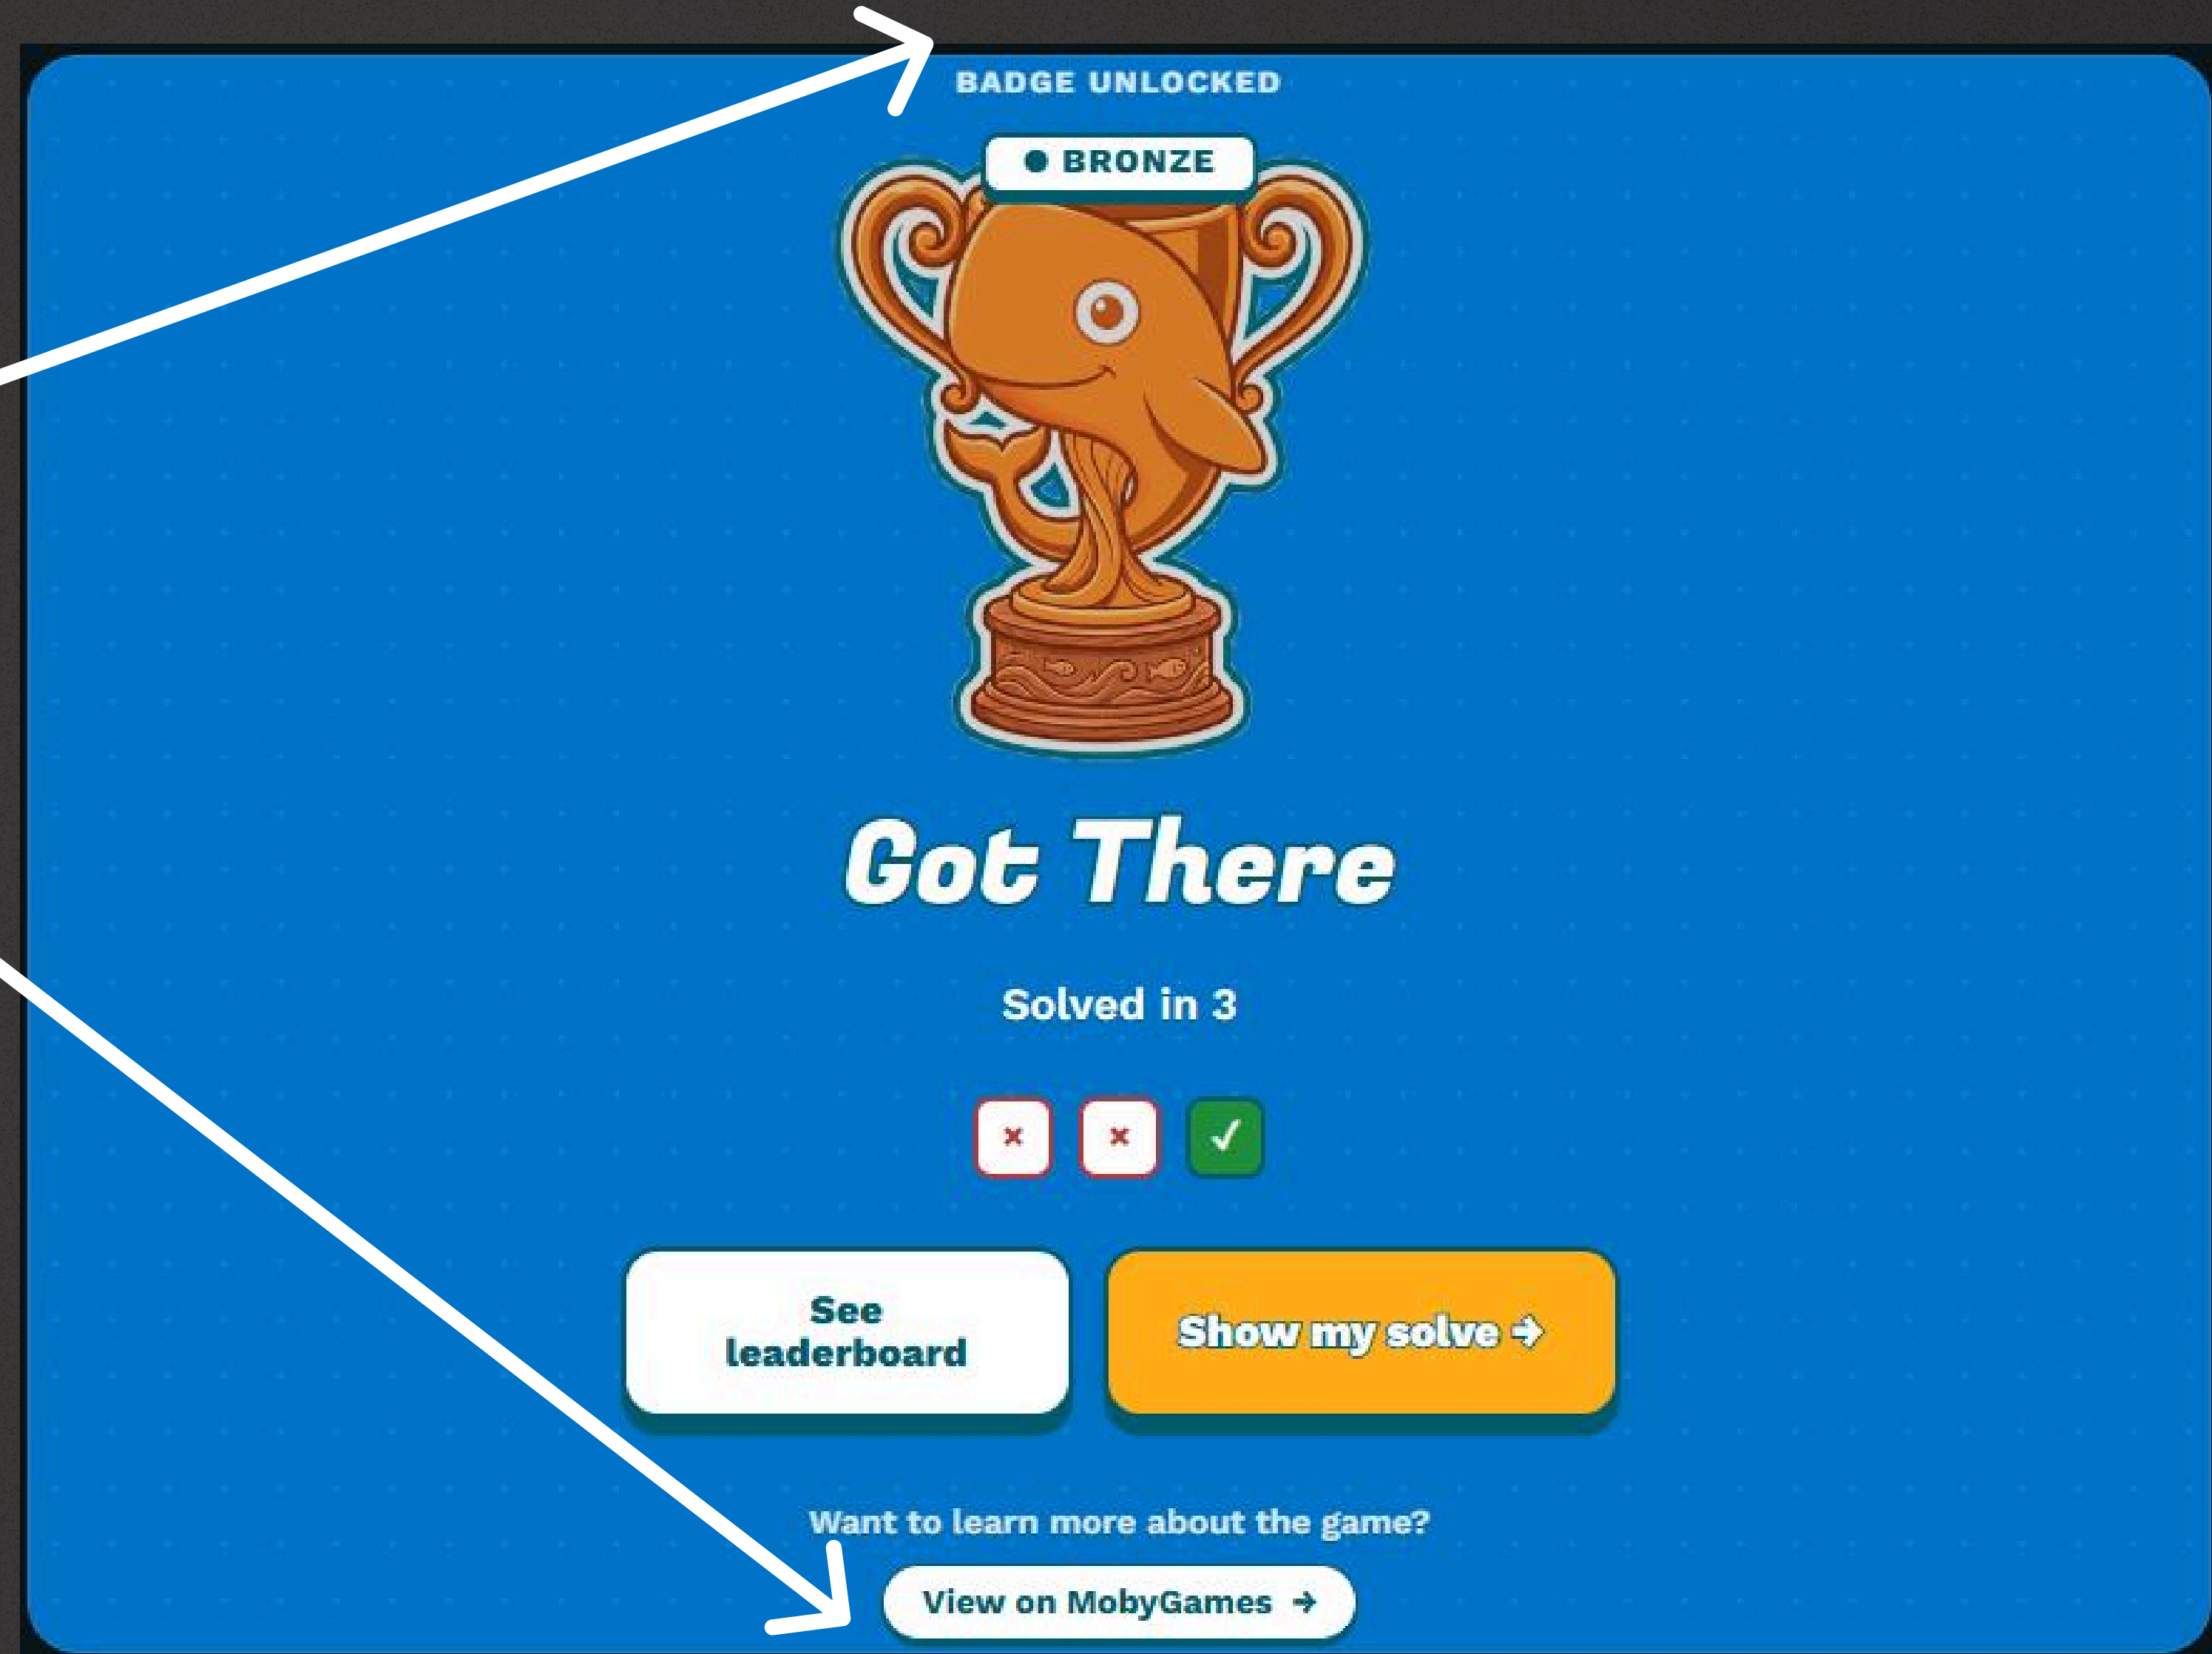

- Relocate the level progress to the top right of the screen
- Allow the “wrong guesses” to be seen when the player select the level failed, but not constantly on the screen.
 - Displays “already guessed in level _” if typing again

Borders

There should be a consistent border, on this page it is lost.

I would recommend making the border consistent with the other pages and making more use of the space on the left and right sides.

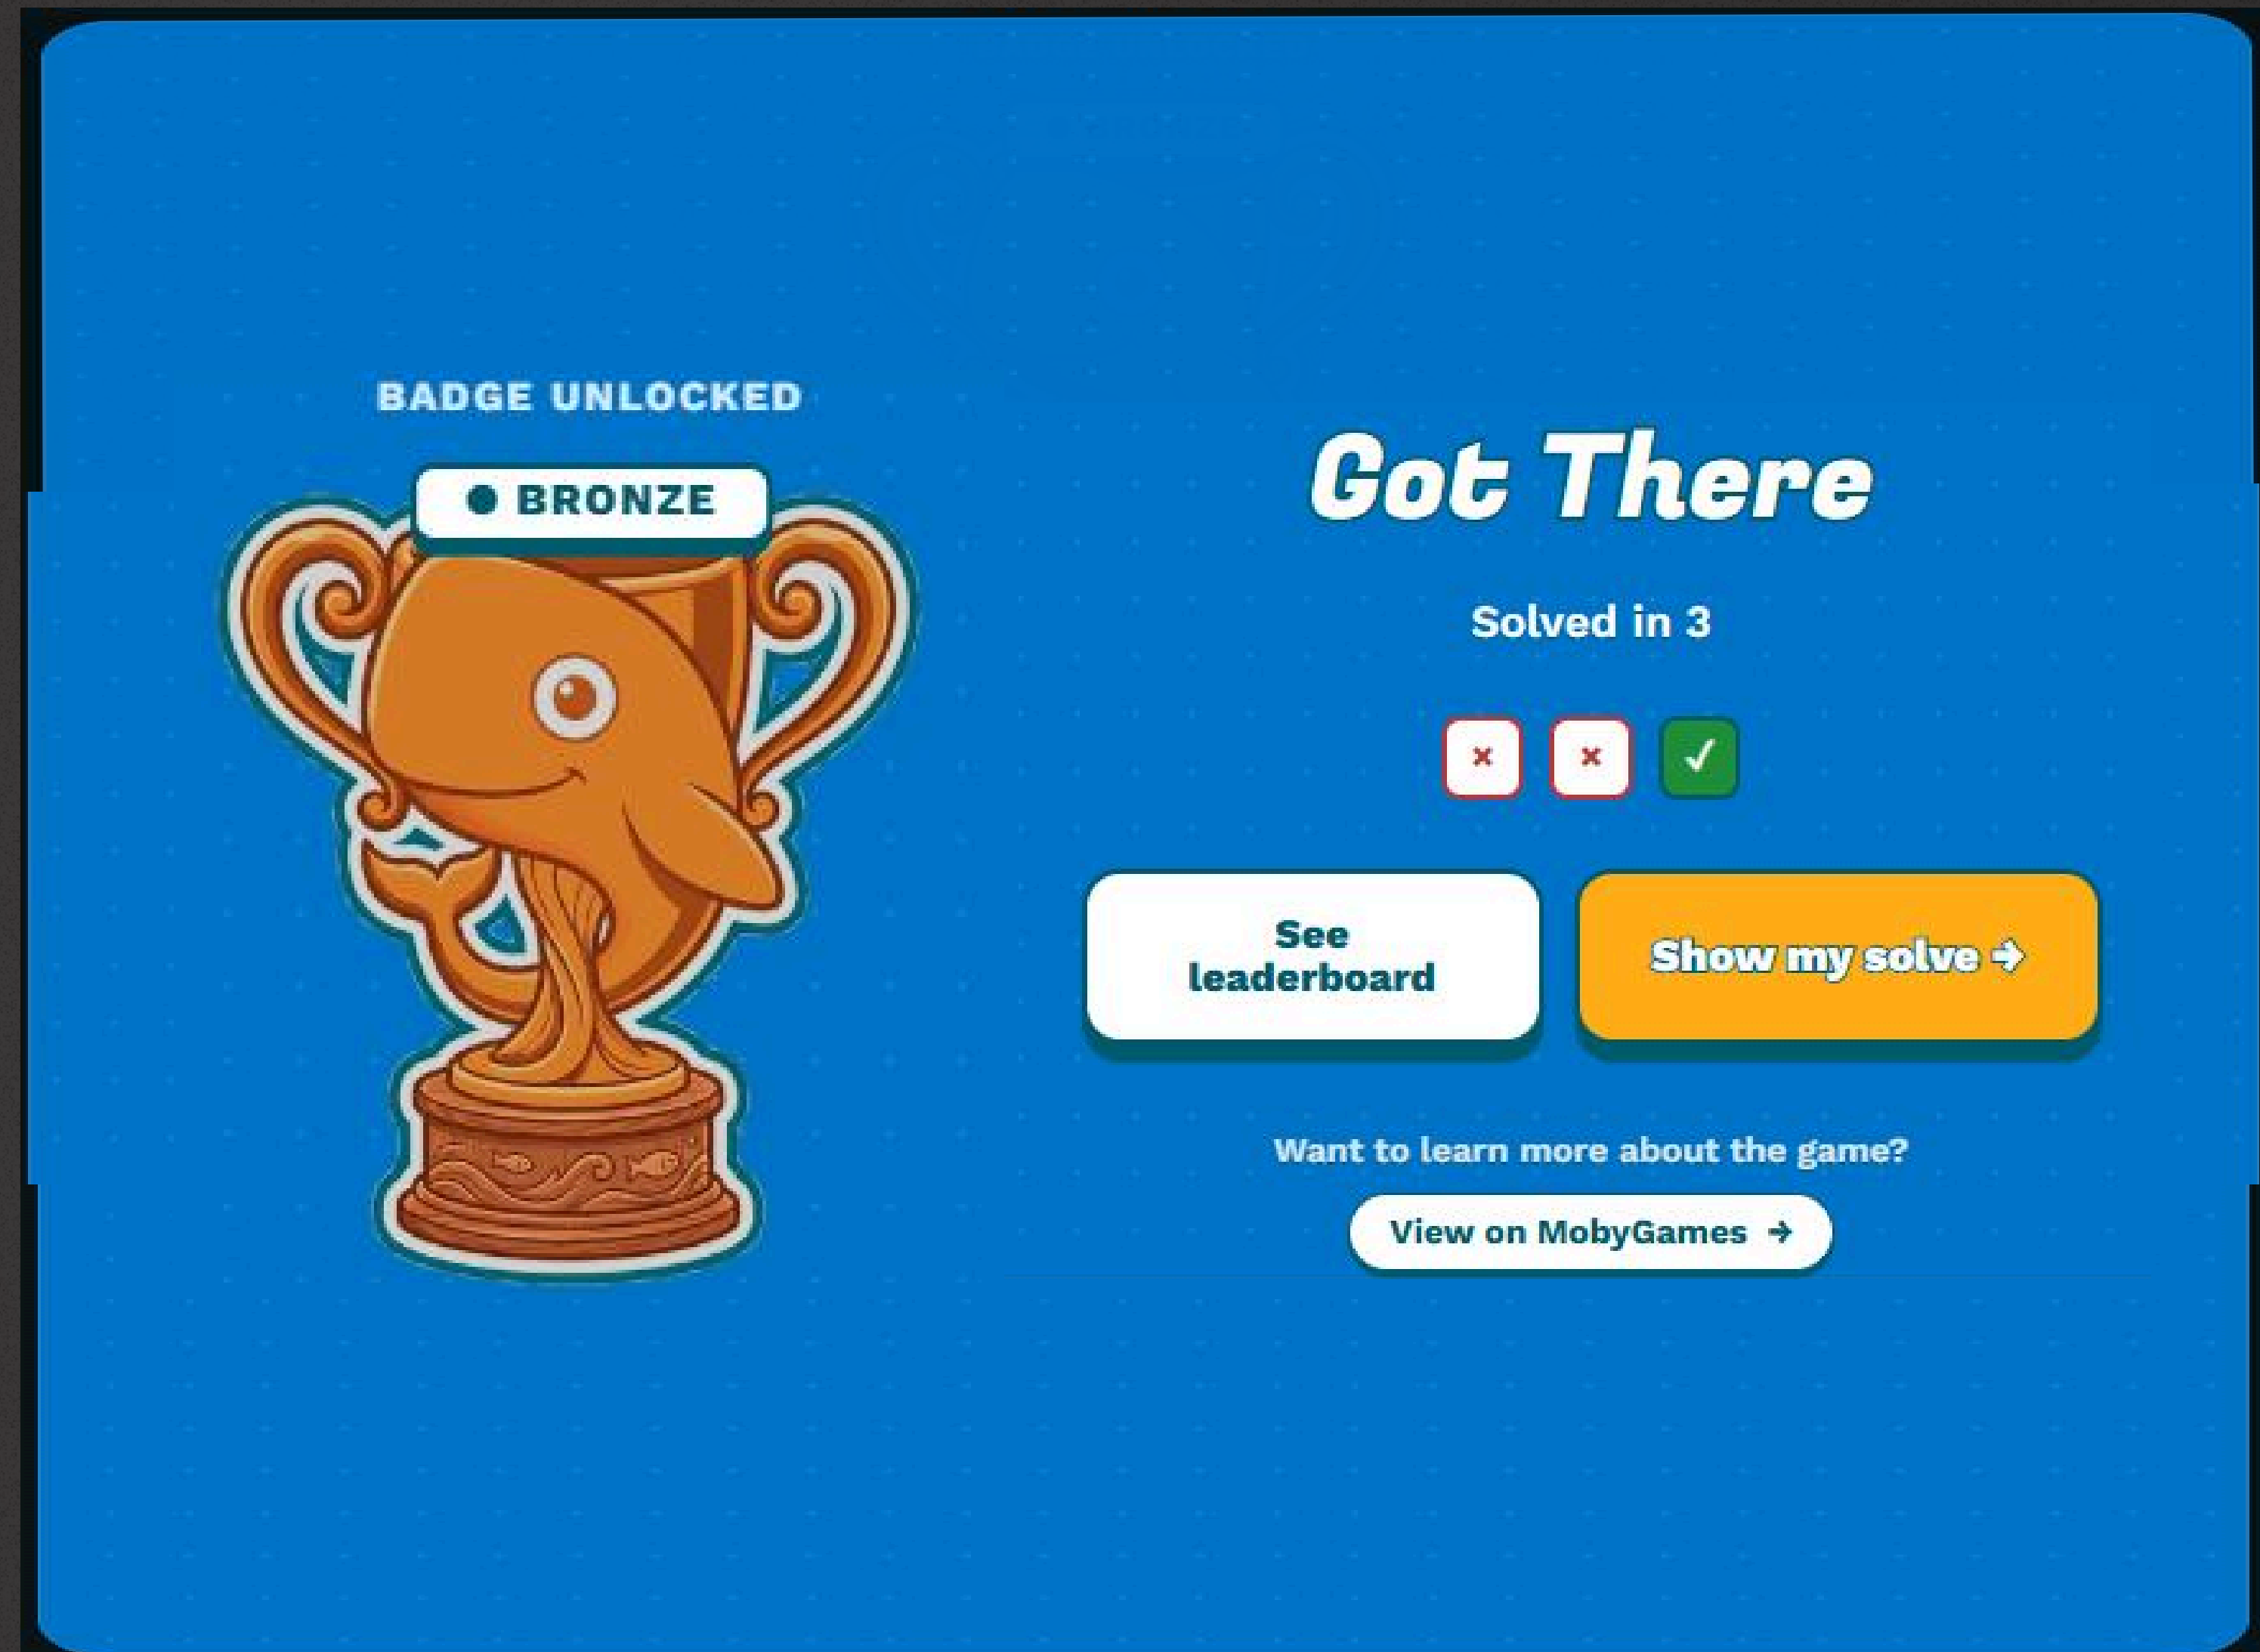

Borders

There should be a consistent border, on this page it is lost.

I would recommend:

- making the border consistent with the other pages
- making more use of the space on the left and right sides.

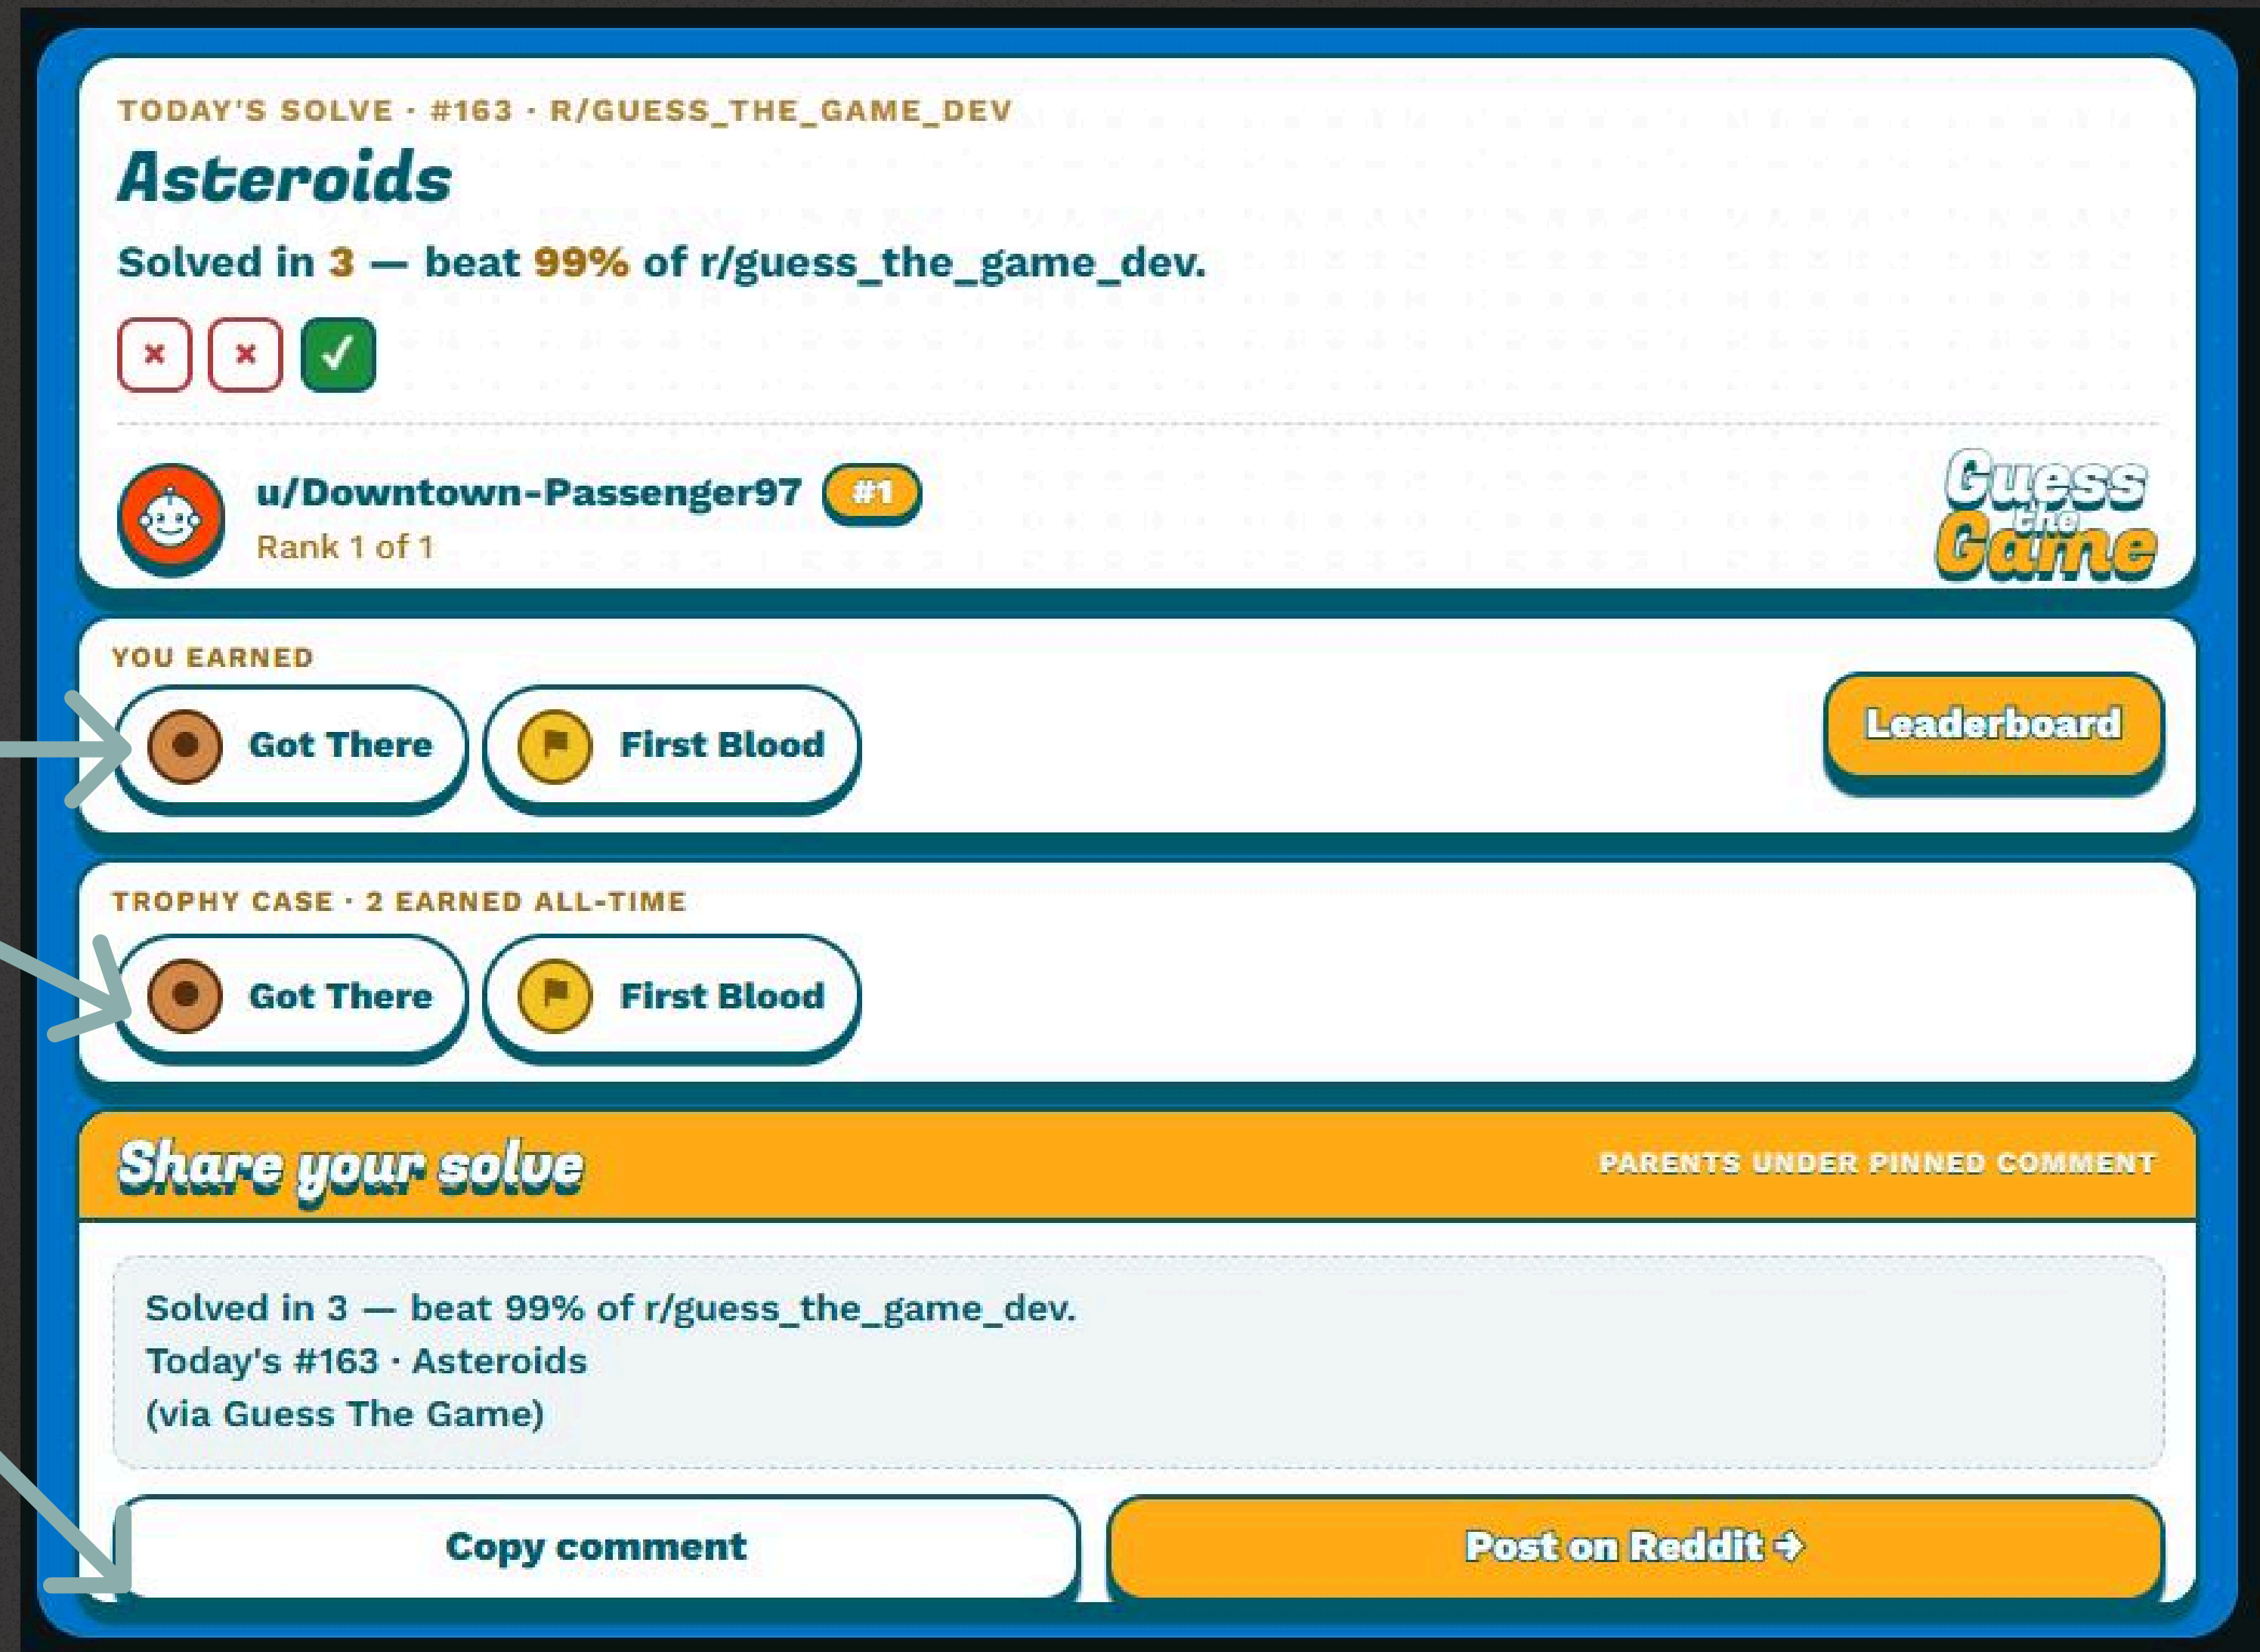

Crowding

Due to less vertical space, this may be too many boxes

Removing any repeating content would save some space

Cutoff on button when pressed and Missing the link to Moby Games

Crowding

I recommend:

- Only keeping the “you earned” to save space
- Allowing more space for the “share your solve”
- Adding the link to MobyGames

